PRODUCTION OF NATIVE

Canadian Tobacco

The Province of Quebec produces annually, on a little over 12,000 acres, over 10 million pounds of Tobacco.

In certain parts of the Province, tobacco production has become a science, while in others it has remained what it was 100 years ago.

That is why there is good and bad native tobacco being sold. Some planters, however, and their number is growing rapidly, have found that it pays to produce a good tobacco. They have studied the different phases of tobacco sowing, planting, harvesting, curing and marketing; have formed Co-operative Societies, built modern drying houses for the curing of tobacco and have succeeded in producing a native tobacco equal in texture and aroma to the best imported. It is from tobacco obtained from these planters that is being manufactured and which contributes to make it the most popular Native Canadian Tobacco on the market, a delightful, perfect-burning, smooth and cool tobacco of distinctive fragrance and free from sting and bite.

ROSE QUESNEL Tobacco is the product of the choicest natural native leaf, properly grown, dried and cured and guaranteed free from artificial flavoring and "liquoring."

"THREE HUNDRED MEALS A DAY"

"Three hundred meals a day" is the slogan which the Union has adopted in its efforts to boost the dining-room attendance, which has latterly diminished to so great an extent that money is being lost every day on the undertaking. "Three hundred meals a day" will assure the success of the dining-room financially, and place it in this respect in the position in which it rightly belongs.

McGill Daily has contended more than once that there is no better meal to be obtained in the city at the same price which prevails at the Union. That many others are of the same opinion may be gathered from the expressions of appreciation which are daily voiced. Possibly there is no student in the University better qualified to deal with such a subject as this than Arthur S. ("Dad") Lamb, Med. '17, past president of the Students' Council, and now Physical Director of Gymnastics and Advisor on Athletics. Here is what "Dad" has to say:

"Great changes have been brought about in the control of the dining hall at the Union. In previous times there perhaps has been some excuse for students not patronizing the Union dining hall. To-day there are no such excuses.

"The meals that are being served are of high class and great variety; the service is good, the prices are as reasonable as can be secured anywhere. It seems incredible that students will walk down town to pay more and get less for their money, apart from the fact of patronizing their own affairs.

"It is lamentable that more support is not extended the dining hall by the students of McGill, for whom the building was erected.

"ARTHUR S. LAMB."

LIEUT. PARNELL DIED GALLANTLY AT HEAD OF MEN

Brave Young Officer Was McGill Undergraduate.

WON THE MILITARY CROSS.

Fellow-Officers Pay Tributes to Sterling Worth and Bravery of McGill Man.

Lieut. the Hon. William Alastair Damer Parnell, Arts '17, ScL '18, who won the Military Cross in December last for distinguished conduct in a trench raid on the French front, has been killed in action, according to private advices received in Montreal by friends of the family. Lieut. Parnell was with the 2nd Battalion, Grenadier Guards, and was killed instantly at the battle of the Somme on September 25, in an attack upon the village of Les Boeufs.

Lieut. Parnell was born in London, England on August 13, 1894, the son of the fourth Baron Congleton, major-general in the Army, and a veteran of the Crimean war and of the campaign against the Zulus. Lady Congleton is still living, while the present Baron Congleton, brother of the late Lieut. Parnell, was born in 1892, and is a lieutenant in the Royal Navy. Lieut. Parnell was descended from the poet Parnell, the friend of Pope, Swift, Addison and Steele. The baronetcy was created in 1776. In 1908 Lieut. Parnell entered Eton (Somerville's), and in 1913 came to McGill, where he entered the Faculty of Arts as a student in Arts '17. He was on the Pacific Coast when war was declared, and hurried back to McGill, where he entered Science '18, and joined the McGill C. O. T. C., being a member of "B" Company. Upon the death in action of his brother, Sir Henry Bligh Fortescue Parnell, fifth Baron Congleton, lieutenant in the Grenadier Guards, he returned to England at Christmas, and took out a commission in the 4th Battalion of his brother's regiment. In July, 1915, Lieut. Parnell took a draft to France from his battalion of the Guards, and on the front joined the 2nd Battalion, Grenadier Guards.

From the first, Lieut. Parnell displayed singular ability as a soldier, and those who knew him were not surprised when in December, 1915, he was awarded the Military Cross for particularly brilliant and gallant work in a trench raid made by the British opposite Le Tilleroy on December 14-15. In the words of the London Gazette, Lieut. Parnell was awarded the Military Cross "for conspicuous gallantry and enterprise opposite Le Tilleroy on the night of 14th-15th December, 1915. He made his way through the German wire, entered the trench, and surprised a post of the enemy, two of whom were killed, one taken prisoner, and the remainder dispersed. On the previous night he had also got into the enemy's trenches, and brought back valuable information."

Extracts from letters to Lady Congleton from Colonel de Crespigny and other brother-officers, bear testimony to the bravery and popularity of Lieut. Parnell. Colonel de Crespigny's letter reads: "No words can express our grief at the loss of your boy, nor the deep sympathy we feel for you. It is indeed hard that you should lose two such sons. 'Willie' (as he was)

RAILWAY CLUB HELD BREWERY TRIP SATURDAY

The Frontenac Brewery is Inspected by the Science Students.

TUNNEL TRIP TO COME.

Science Men Were Out in Force to Take Advantage of Popular Annual Trip.

The trip of inspection of the Frontenac Brewery Co.'s plant at Mile End which has been run in previous years, received as much interest as ever this year. Meeting at the Union at 2:15 p.m. Saturday afternoon, the members of the Railway and Mechanical Club, about fifty in all, took the street car, en masse, for Mile End. At the Brewery they were met by a number of the company's officials, and a guide was provided to show the men over the plant.

The members were first taken to the power producing and refrigerating plant. Here all the power used in the brewery is developed, and here also are the enormous ammonia compressors. Steam is generated by two of the latest type Babcock and Wilcox boilers, fitted with automatic chain grate stokers, thus doing away with the old type of hand fired boilers. In the engine room are to be seen many interesting machines. Electricity is generated by two D. C. generators, developing 60 h.p., each at 240 volts. These are driven by Bellis and Morcom high speed vertical engines. The plant is lighted by the three wire system, a balancer set being used to equalize the voltages. The ammonia compressors are seemingly immense; they are Corliss valve engines, of the horizontal type. There is also a Bellis and Morcom air compressor, which the engineer kindly started for the benefit of those present. The engine room as a whole was a marvel of neatness and cleanliness, the polished brass and steel fairly gleamed in the light.

The party then proceeded to the top floor, where the process of manufacture commences. The plant, which is allowed to be one of the most efficient and most up-to-date of its kind, is operated on the progressive, gravity system. In this system all the materials are hoisted to the top floor of the building, and then placed through their various processes, passing from floor to floor by gravity. In no part of the process are any of the materials touched by hand, and absolute cleanliness prevails. The storage tanks are all glazed with a form of porcelain, and everything appears to be spotless.

After being shown the various processes in making the brew, the party

MEDICINE BEAT ARTS AGAIN IN SATURDAY GAME

Med. Third Straight Victory Was Easy One.

PITTS IS AGAIN STAR.

Is the Outstanding Player of the Series as a Ground Gainer.

The second and last game between Arts and Medicine was played on Saturday before a very small crowd of rooters. They were principally Meds. Unlike its predecessor, it proved to be a fairly interesting game, the Arts team putting up a much better exhibition than in any other previous game, and showing some good team play at crucial moments. For example, with the ball on Arts one yard line at one time in the game Meds. were unable to get the ball across on two downs, but got it over on the third. The weather was rather cool for football, a strong wind having come up, and the result was that there was more or less fumbling at all times. Other conditions were ideal, however.

Pitts, as usual, was the outstanding star on the Med. lineup, contributing two touchdowns to the score, and playing a great defensive game. Fawcett made gains whenever it was necessary, and called his plays well. The whole Med. team played well together at all times.

Quite a change was noticeable in the Arts play, as, with Myerson at quarter, the team got away on the plays better than heretofore. Myerson played better than usual, contributing several gains to the Arts rushes. Busiere made one or two fair gains, but was inclined to stop before he hit the line. The Meds., defending the west goal, kicked off. The kick was returned and the ball was Medicine's at centre field. Patterson made 3 yards. Greenwood took the ball 8 yards. The ball went 20 yards on an end play, in which the entire back line took part. The ball was fumbled, but regained. The ball was Meds. on Arts 15 yard line. Fawcett gained 3 yards. The ball was kicked into touch, the play being brought to 25 yard line. Score 1 to 0. Arts ball on their 25 yard line. Donnelly got the kick, and it was Meds. ball on the 25 yard line. Fawcett, five yards. Greenwood makes yards in the next down. Greenwood was hurt when tackled, and gave out when he attempted to rise. He went off for five minutes, and Walters replaced him. It was Arts ball. Myerson made 15 yards. Arts kicked. Med ball on their 35 yard line. No gain. The next buck was thrown for a loss Arts muffed the kick, and it went out of bounds. Med. ball on Arts 35 yard line. Taylor made 25 yards. Pitts was sent across on the next play, but it was Arts first down for holding. No gain. Loss. Clark kicked into scrim. The ball was Arts behind their line. Score, 2 to 0 for Meds. Arts ball on their 28 yard line. McLeellan was hurt on the next play. Gilhooly, of Medicine, was allowed to take his place. Arts kicked to Fleck, who was downed in centre field. Walters took the ball. He hurt his knee when he was tackled heavily. Greenwood came back into the game. The ball went to Arts on their 10 yard line. No gain, 3 yards loss on a pass to Gilhooly, which went wide. Meds. ball on Arts 5

"ROY" HASTINGS, WHO LOST HIS COMMISSION WITH CANADIANS REGAINED IT JUST BEFORE HE WAS KILLED A SHORT TIME AGO.

That Lance-Corp. William Roy Hastings, Arts '08, Law '11, who went overseas as an officer, lost his rank on account of some misunderstanding, gallantly re-enlisted as a private, and was killed last month while a lance-corporal. In reality had won back his rank of lieutenant, is the interesting information which has been received officially in the city. Lieut. Hastings served so gallantly in the ranks that he was offered the choice of a commission or the Distinguished Conduct Medal. With a view to securing additional experience, Lieut. Hastings chose the former alternative, and was gazetted to the 16th Canadian Battalion, his appointment dating back to September 6. A few days after being gazetted he was killed in action. At McGill Lieut. Hastings was well known on the football field, being one of the best halfbacks that ever donned a McGill uniform. He was practising law in this city when he enlisted in the 24th Battalion, and his brother, Capt. Ogilvy Hastings, invalided home, is about to return to the front.

Lieut. Quentin McLaren.
Lieut. Quentin McLaren, of the Black Watch, killed in action, is believed to be the student of the same name who attended Macdonald College for a time, and later was an undergraduate at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, Ont. Lieut. McLaren enlisted originally in the South African forces, and served with them in the campaign against the German colonies. He then returned to England and took out a commission in the famous Black Watch.

Limping slightly as a result of injuries suffered when he was thrown from a motor-cycle in Albert on the Somme front, on October 1, through the explosion of a 5.9 German shell immediately behind him, Capt. Otto Demuth, Med. '15, a well known McGill senior football and hockey player, who has been with the Royal Army Medical Corps since June 4, 1915, walked into the Union last week, and surprised students who were unaware of his mishap, and of the fact that he was returning home. Capt. Demuth is back in Canada on three months' leave, and before he goes to his home in Penitence, B.C., will spend a week in Montreal. The 5.9 shell which resulted in Capt. Demuth's injury, killed two Canadians and wounded three others. Demuth's machine was wrecked and he was badly shaken up.

More Decorations.
According to unofficial advice which have been received by relatives in the city, the Military Cross has been awarded to Lieut. Rennie Ogilvie McMurtry, Arts '05, Law '08, for distinguished conduct as an officer in charge of observation duties. Lieut. McMurtry is serving with the 107th Canadian Siege Battery, formerly No. 3 Canadian Siege Battery, commanded by Major E. G. M. Cape, Sci. '98, a unit which has made a splendid name for itself in the recent fighting in the Somme theatre of operations. Lieut. McMurtry was a member of the McGill Contingent, Canadian Officers' Training Corps when he took out a commission in the battery to which he has since been attached. He was a member of the legal firm of Brown, Montgomery and McMichael, in the city, and resided at 29 Tower Avenue.

Lieut. McMurtry comes of a military family, several members of which are on active service. Recent advice tell of the continued good work of the 107th Battery, it being stated that it is now so busy that the battery is working in the open and pounding away at the German trenches.

According to information received in the city, the Military Cross has been awarded to Capt. William Norman Gilmour, Med. '10, of the Royal Army Medical Corps, for distinguished service in charge of an advanced dressing station in the recent fighting on the Somme front. Capt. Gilmour is Medical Officer of the 16th Royal Scots, a battalion of a famous British regiment which has seen considerable heavy fighting in the operations which have been carried on this autumn.

Capt. Gilmour has been in uniform since war was declared. That event found him engaged in practice in Australia after a period as medical superintendent of the Children's Memorial Hospital in this city. Capt. Gilmour immediately crossed to South Africa, and there enlisted as a trooper in General Botha's cavalry operating against the German colonies. Upon the completion of this campaign, in which he suffered much hardship, Capt. Gilmour went to England, and there took out a commission in the Royal Army Medical Corps. He trained in England, and finally went to France, with the battalion already mentioned. He has been in France for upwards of a year.

In the early stages of the Somme offensive, Capt. Gilmour conducted his advanced dressing station with such devotion to duty that he was promoted, and it is evidently because of further gallantry that he has been awarded the Military Cross. Capt. Gilmour's home is in Brockville, Ont., where his father, W. A. Gilmour, is collector of Customs. He was born in Brockville on January 15, 1888, and was educated at the Brockville Collegiate Institute.

Confirmation of the award of the Military Cross to Temporary Second Lieut. Oliver Lawrence Jacks, Agr. '16, of the British Army, is given in the current issue of the London Gazette. Lieut. Jacks, who was a farmer at Gagetown, N.B., after he left Macdonald College, was with the Oxford and Buckinghamshire Light Infantry in the fighting on the Somme front,

AWARDED MILITARY CROSS.

LIEUT. A. E. THOMPSON.

Unofficial advice received at the University tell of the award of the Military Cross to Lieut. A. E. Thompson, graduate in Medicine, and the well known hockey player of former years.

and won his Military Cross for good work in the operations which have taken place recently. Lieut. Jacks has two brothers at the front, both lieutenants in the British army.

The Pats on the Somme.

The story of how the Princess Pats went over the parapet on the Somme front on September 15, and took two lines of German trenches was told to McGill Daily by Lieut. Oryville S. Tyndale, Arts '08, Law '15, of the famous Canadian Light Infantry unit, who has just been invalided home to Canada suffering from wounds received in the charge on the date already mentioned. Lieut. Tyndale left Canada as a platoon commander with the Fifth Universities Company, and saw service on the Ypres salient before his battalion was transferred to the Somme area. The Fifth company went to France early in July.

On the Ypres salient the Pats experienced little excitement, said Lieut. Tyndale, with the exception that they were constantly under heavy German fire, and expected to be blown up every moment. In the middle of August they were moved to the Somme front by forced marches, and arrived there on September 3, being billeted in Albert camp. At that time the Pats, expected to be stationed on the Somme about two weeks. The day following their arrival at Albert, they went to the trenches, and on the 15th advanced to the attack. The Pats took the first German trench without difficulty, the Germans offering no resistance and surrendering freely. Lieut. Tyndale's platoon of sixty captured almost its own number in prisoners, fifty Germans being taken. These were sent to the rear in charge of one man, no others being available at the time.

So successful had their first charge been that the officers decided to attack the second trench. Lieut. Tyndale went over the parapet at the head of his men, and had advanced 25 yards when he was hit in the leg by machine gun fire. He lay in a shell hole expecting to die from exposure, when Pte. Ashly, a student at Emmanuel Anglican Theological College in Saskatchewan before he enlisted in the Fifth Universities Company, came along and taking him on his back, carried him to the rear road under heavy shell fire. It took them two and a half hours to reach the former British lines.

When asked regarding McGill men whom he had seen overseas, Lieut. Tyndale stated that there were so many at the front that he could not mention any individuals specially. Good and effective work was done, he said, by Corp. J. Gordon Nicholson, Arts '18, with his machine gun on the Somme. Corp. Nicholson was transferred to the machine gun section two weeks after he landed in France, and has done very good work. He is a son of Dr. J. A. Nicholson, the Registrar of the University. On the Olympian, Lieut. Tyndale met Capt. Otto Demuth, Med. '15, who is back in Canada on leave.

Speaking of recruiting, Lieut. Tyndale said: "I noticed when I disembarked at Halifax a newspaper article stating that the total number of enlistments for a month was 6,000. This is not equal to the number of casualties suffered, a deplorable state of affairs, since, if Canada expects to keep up the strength of the present force, more recruits have to be secured."

Grads. in Uniform.

A London despatch states that Major Gerald V. White, M.P., Sci. '01, serving with a Canadian Forestry battalion in England, has been promoted to the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel, and given the command of a Forestry battalion. Lieut. G. Lewis Burland, Sci. '10, well known as an athlete, has left for overseas service as an officer in the Tunnellers of the Canadian Engineers. Lieut. Burland's home is in Ottawa.

Capt. Arthur L. Johnson, Med. '09, of the Canadian Army Medical Corps, is back in Canada on a ten-weeks' furlough from the front. It is officially announced that Capt. Brouard H. T. McKenzie, Sci. '16, who went overseas with the 24th Battalion, was wounded, and has been invalided to Canada on leave, has been appointed musketry instructor for military training in the province of New Brunswick. Capt. McKenzie is a native of Moncton, N.B., and attended the Royal Military College at Kingston before coming to McGill. Lieut.-Col. McKenzie Forbes, Med. '98, has been appointed medical officer under the Military Hospitals Commission to take charge of its work in Montreal, Quebec, Lake Edward and Ste. Agathe.

McGill men who are officers in the 5th Canadian Pioneers battalion, which is about to proceed overseas are: Capt. T. A. MacLean, Sci. '98; Capt. T. J. Coonan, Law '14, Paymaster; Capt. E. A. McCusker, Med. '16, Medical Officer; Lieut. J. S. Brisbane, Sci. '14; Lieut. A. W. Murdoch, Sci. '15.

W. A. Grassmachar, Sci. '14, and Eugene Vinet, Sci. '10, are taking a course of instruction in siege artillery work at Halifax, N.S.

Was Recommended.

That Sapper E. Merrill Desbrisay, Sci. '16, who has been reported as killed in action after being on the missing list since early in August, was recommended for a decoration on account of his good work with the Divisional Signallers in the "scrap" on the Ypres front in June, is the information conveyed to McGill Daily by Sapper Richard W. Guy, Sci. '16, on active service in France. Sapper Guy writes as follows:

"I have received the first alumni edition (of the Daily), and was very pleased to get so much news of the doings around school and also of so many now away from there. I was very sorry to hear that so many had given up their lives out here, but it is grand that McGill is bearing her share so well.

"I noticed in your paper a slight mistake in the article about Sapper Merrill Desbrisay, which said he was missing since June. He was in the same section as I, in the 2nd Divisional Signal Company, and came through the scrap at that time all right. In August of this year he transferred to the Royal Flying Corps, and it was on his second flight as an observer that his machine was brought down behind the German lines. Since then we have had no news of him, though we all sincerely hope he is a prisoner. He was a fine fellow, and one of the best men in our section, and had been mentioned for a decoration for his good work in June."

Grads. Making Good.

Rev. Ebur A. Findlay, Arts '15, and a graduate of the Diocesan Theological College, was ordained to the priesthood by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Farthing on Sunday. Rev. Mr. Findlay is a former member of the editorial staff of McGill Daily.

Walter Shean, last year of Railways '16, is now a married man, having been united on July 29 to Miss Vida Marion Wilkins, a graduate of Trinity University, Toronto. Mr. Shean is now connected with the legal department of the C. P. R.

J. K. L. Ross, Sci. '97, has donated $50,000 to be utilized in building an additional unit to the Nurses' Home, to accommodate twenty nurses of the Royal Victoria Hospital. As a result of Mr. Ross' previous generosity, it was stated, the hospital will have accommodation for 600 public patients instead of 325, as at present. The Ross Memorial wing for private patients will thus help in the maintenance of the public wards.

Rev. R. S. Tippet, Arts '10, has been appointed a master and assistant chaplain at Trinity College School, Port Hope, Ont.

The death of one of McGill's prominent graduates occurred Tuesday morning at four o'clock, in the person of Mr. Justice Dunlop, who graduated in Law in 1860. He was a judge of the Superior Court of Quebec, and of the Admiralty Division of the Exchequer Court of Canada. His sudden death at his residence, 299 Peel St., was a great shock to his colleagues, and deep regret was expressed among them. Mr. Justice Dunlop had been ill only since Saturday, when he was stricken with an attack of acute indigestion.

Dr. B. A. Puddington, Med. '10, of Grand Falls, N.B., is taking up post-graduate work in surgery in the city.

A NEW DELUGE TABLET.

It is reported from the Smithsonian Museum that there has been found among the museum's large stores of uncollected Mesopotamian texts a small tablet containing an account of the Deluge, substantially in accord with other items of a similar nature already known. The tablet just discovered is in an extremely early Accadian or Sumerian tongue, and dates back to at least 2250 B. C., being thus notably earlier than most of the Deluge inscriptions. It appears to be a continuation of a similar tablet found in the museum and translated some time ago. The Smithsonian Assyriologists are now employed in a thorough search for some further members of the series.

SCHOOLROOM ON WHEELS.

CLEVELAND, O.—A school to teach the children of railway employees has been inaugurated by the Southern Pacific, says the Plain Dealer. A freight car has been fitted with benches and desks, and in this schoolroom, on wheels, children of section hands on the Los Angeles division are to be taught through the winter.

WALTHAM WATCH COMPANY, MONTREAL

The Royal Military College of Canada.

THERE are few national institutions of more value and interest to the country than the Royal Military College of Canada. Notwithstanding this, its object and the work it is accomplishing are not sufficiently understood by the general public.

The College is a Government Institution, designed primarily for the purpose of giving instructions in all branches of military science to Cadets and Officers of the Canadian Militia. In fact, it corresponds to Woolwich and Sandhurst. The Commandant and military instructors are all officers on the active list of the Imperial army, sent for the purpose and there is in addition a complete staff of professors for the civil subjects which form such an important part of the College course. Medical attendance is also provided.

Whilst the College is organized on a strictly military basis the cadets receive a practical and scientific training, in subjects essential to a sound modern education.

The course includes a thorough grounding in Mathematics, Civil Engineering, Surveying, Physics, Chemistry, French and English.

The strict discipline maintained at the College is one of the most valuable features of the course, and in addition, the constant practice of gymnastics, drills and outdoor exercises of all kinds, ensures health and excellent physical condition. Commissions in all branches of the Imperial service and Canadian Permanent Force are offered annually.

The diploma of graduation is considered by the authorities conducting the examination for Dominion Land Surveyor to be equivalent to a university degree, and by the Regulations of the Law Society of Ontario, it obtains the same exemptions as a B.A. degree.

The length of the course is three years in three terms of 14 months each. The total cost of the course, including board, uniform, instructional material, and all extras is about $300.

The annual competitive examination for admission to the college, takes place in May of each year, at the headquarters of the General military districts.

For full particulars regarding this examination and for any other information, application should be made to the secretary of the Militia Council, Ottawa, Ontario, or to the Commandant, Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont.

BASKETBALL EXECUTIVE.

There will be a very important meeting of the Basketball Club Executive this afternoon at 5 o'clock, in the Union. All members of the executive are urged to be out, as the business on hand cannot possibly be postponed.

SOCIETY AT WELLESLEY.

Students at Wellesley College have taken a referendum on the question of reducing the number of social events which they are expected to attend during the college year. This action followed the consideration of the subject by the joint council of the college, a group of seven faculty members and six students. It has been felt that the social schedule was overcrowded so that the students did not have sufficient time for unrequired reading or for friends.

In 33 weeks of a college year there are 28 events which every student is expected to attend. There are six superclasses societies, each of which has approximately 56 meetings. There are concert and lecture courses, department clubs, language clubs and state clubs, class meetings and class socials, and numerous rehearsals for plays and concerts. Before considering any definite changes, the Council asked for the opinion of the undergraduate body as to which events might be eliminated.

LONG-TERM COLLEGE COACHES.

Charles F. Seeley, at Williams, and Richard Neiligan, at Amherst, have held their places as coaches at the two colleges longer than any other two coaches in the Eastern States. When Seeley recently entered on his twenty-third year of service, the students and Faculty at Williams presented to him a gold stop watch suitably inscribed. During his regime Williams thrice won the New England Intercollegiate championships.

CERCLE FRANCAIS EXECUTIVE MEETS

Prospective Members Urged to Have Their Applications in by Tuesday Evening.

Due to the resolution adopted at a general meeting of the old members of this club held in Strathcona Hall, the seventh instant, it is now essential that new members be voted into the Cercle.

The meetings, for the most part, take the form of dinners held through the session, to which various prominent speakers are from time to time invited. Members of the society also take part in the programme. Papers in French on live topics are occasionally read by the students, but membership does not necessitate the participation of any member in the short programme which immediately follows each dinner. This year, should the material in the club permit, an innovation by way of a debate in French will be scheduled.

In addition to the dinners, a couple of theatre nights are held during the academic year. Also in the past it has been the custom for the Cercle to co-operate with the Societe of the R. V. C. on one or two occasions during the session, which practice will undoubtedly continue this year.

The membership of the Cercle Francais is by constitution limited. After the foregoing generalities it is impossible to enlarge on the extreme benefit to be derived by the French and other students of McGill College by participation in this activity, which heretofore has proved so successful. To enable the executive to expeditiously arrange the programme it is desirable that the club be brought up to full membership by the first regular meeting. Some applications have already been received. These and others that may be received during the day will be voted upon at an executive meeting to be held in Room A, Strathcona Hall, Tuesday p.m., at 7:30.

Applications can be sent to the Corresponding Secretary, V. S. Green, Strathcona Hall, or left with the Janitor of the Arts Building for delivery.

known to all of us) was beloved by all the officers and men of my battalion. He was quite fearless, very efficient, and never let a thought of himself stand in the way of his duty. We shall miss him terribly. He was killed outright during a most gallant attack on the village of Les Boeufs.

Another letter reads: "As Harry was one of my best pals, and Willie, as we called him, was one of my best subalterns, I feel I must write a short line to tell you how awfully we feel for you. . . . We were attacking a line of trenches west of the village of Les Boeufs, when Willie was hit. He was leading his company, and on reaching the wire found it uncut, and began to cut a way through for his men at once. It was quite instantaneous, and he cannot have suffered at all. I did not actually see him hit, though I was close behind, but I saw him very shortly afterwards. It was largely through his pluck and dash that his company took that bit of trench, as it was heavily wired, and held strongly by the Germans. I have seldom seen a more gallant officer, and his loss to us is irreparable. His men were devoted to him, and he knew how to get the very best out of them. The whole Battalion mourns for you, and I cannot tell you how much we miss him."

A third letter states that "we all loved Willie. He was killed as were the other officers in the two leading companies, trying to cut the wire in front of the first German trench while the men fired at the Germans."

Their Majesties the King and Queen sent a gracious message of condolence and sympathy to Lady Conington. At McGill Lieut. Parnell was a quiet, unassuming chap, who was little known beyond his own class.

Another end play advanced Medicine 12 yards. Donnelly made 5 yards. Gilhooley intercepted a pass. Half time score: 12 to 0.

Arts kicked off in the second half. The ball was Medicine's on their 30 yard line. Pitts made a 70 yard run for a touchdown on the first play. The goal was converted. Arts kickoff was returned. It was Arts ball in centre field. A muff made it Meds. ball. Greenwood went 15 yards, but the Meds. were offside, and the ball went to Arts. Gilhooley hesitated when he received the ball, and was downed for a loss of about 15 yards. Gilhooley kicked, but the ball only went a short distance, and Medicine carried it back to centre field. Fawcett made three yards. The ball went to Arts on a forward pass. Bussiere made 4 yards through middle. There was no gain. The kick was blocked and the ball went to Medicine on their 10 yard line. Fawcett made 4 yards. The ball was Arts for forward passing. Myerson went 5 yards, but lost the ball on a forward pass. Four yards were made on a buck. Med. were offside, and the ball went to Meds. 4 yard line. Gilhooley got it over on the next down. Score was 18 to 5 for Medicine. On the kickoff, Arts got the ball on their 30 yard line. Bussiere went through serum for 7 yards. Gilhooley gained 8 yards. He tried to repeat, but was held for no gain. Davis took the ball and got away for a nice run, but was tripped. Medicine was penalized 10 yards. Three-quarter time.

The last quarter was more or less of a farce. Meds. were sure of the game, and played easily, letting the Arts men kick without much effort at blocking. Arts made several gains in this quarter, and the play was about even. No scoring was done.

Bill Hughes refereed, while Browne held the watch.

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC

DEPARTMENT OF COLONIZATION, MINES AND FISHERIES.

The chief minerals of the Province of Quebec are Asbestos, Chromite, Copper, Iron, Gold, Molybdenite, Phosphate, Mica, Graphite, Ornamental and Building Stone, Clays, Etc.

The Mining Law gives absolute security of Title and is very favourable to the Prospector.

MINERS' CERTIFICATES.

First of all, obtain a miner's certificate, from the Department in Quebec or from the nearest agent. The price of this certificate is $10.00, and it is valid until the first of January following. This certificate gives the right to prospect on public lands and on private lands, on which the mineral rights belong to the Crown.

The holder of the certificate may stake mining claims to the extent of 200 acres.

WORKING CONDITIONS.

During the first six months following the staking of the claim, work on it must be performed to the extent of at least twenty-five days of eight hours.

SIX MONTHS AFTER STAKING.

At the expiration of six months from the date of the staking, the prospector, to retain his rights, must take out a mining license.

MINING LICENSE.

The mining license may cover 40 to 200 acres in unsurveyed territory. The price of this license is Fifty Cents an acre per year, and a fee of $10.00 on issue. It is valid for one year, and is renewable on the same terms, on producing an affidavit that during the year work has been performed to the extent of at least twenty-five days' labor on each forty acres.

MINING CONCESSION.

Notwithstanding the above, a mining concession may be acquired at any time at the rate of $5.00 an acre for SUPERIOR METALS, and $3.00 an acre for INFERIOR MINERALS.

The attention of prospectors is specially called to the territory in the North-Western part of the Province of Quebec, north of the height of land, where important mineralized belts are known to exist.

PROVINCIAL LABORATORY.

Special arrangements have been made with the POLYTECHNIC SCHOOL of LAVAL UNIVERSITY, 228 ST. DENIS STREET, MONTREAL, for the analysis of minerals at very reduced rates for the benefit of miners and prospectors in the Province of Quebec. The well equipped laboratories of this institution and its trained chemists ensure results of undoubted integrity and reliability.

The Bureau of Mines at Quebec will give all the information desired in connection with the mines and mineral resources of the Province, on application addressed to
